PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

CASE NUMBER 1:04CV01135
JUDGE: John D. Bates
DECK TYPE: Habeas Corpus/2255
DATE STAMP: 07/02/2004

PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

1. Petitioner Murat Kurnaz seeks the Great Writ. He acts on his own behalf and through his next friend, Rabiye Kurnaz, his mother.
2. Petitioner Murat Kurnaz is a Turkish citizen and resident of Germany. Petitioner Rabiye Kurnaz is also a Turkish citizen and resident of Germany. Petitioner Murat Kurnaz (the "detained Petitioner") is being held virtually incommunicado in Respondents' unlawful custody at Guantánamo Bay Naval Station, Guantánamo, Cuba.
3. Respondents George W. Bush, President of the United States, Donald H. Rumsfeld, U.S. Secretary of Defense, Army Brigadier General Jay Hood, Commander of Joint Task Force-GTMO, and Army Colonel Nelson J. Cannon, Commander, Camp Delta, Guantánamo Bay Naval Station, are either ultimately responsible for or have been charged with the responsibility of maintaining the custody and control of the detained Petitioner.

JURISDICTION

4. Petitioners bring this action under 28 U.S.C. §§2241 and 2242, and invoke this Court's jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. §§1331, 1350, 1651, 2201, and 2202; 5 U.S.C. §702; as well as the Fifth, Sixth, and Eighth Amendments to the United States Constitution, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, the American Declaration on the Rights and Duties of Man, and customary international law. Because they seek declaratory relief, Petitioners also rely on F. R. Civ. P. 57.
5. This Court is empowered under 28 U.S.C. §2241 to grant the Writ of Habeas Corpus, and to entertain the Petition filed by Rabiye Kurnaz as next friend under 28 U.S.C. §2242. This Court is further empowered to declare the rights and other legal relations of the parties herein by 28 U.S.C. §2201, and to effectuate and enforce declaratory relief by all necessary and proper means by 28 U.S.C. §2202, as this case involves an actual controversy within the Court's jurisdiction.

II PARTIES

6. Petitioner Murat Kurnaz is a Turkish citizen and a permanent resident of Germany who is

- presently incarcerated and held in Respondents' unlawful custody in Camp Delta, Guantánamo. See Exhibit A, Affidavit of Bernhard Docke, incorporated by reference herein.
7. Petitioner Rabiye Kurnaz is Murat's mother. She is a Turkish citizen and resident of Germany. Because her son cannot secure access either to legal counsel or to the courts of the United States, Rabiye Kurnaz acts as his next friend. See Exhibit B, Affidavit of Rabiye Kurnaz, incorporated by reference herein.
 8. On her own and through German counsel, Bernard Docke, Rabiye Kurnaz has tried repeatedly to contact her son, to learn more about his condition and status and to gain access to him. The United States has either rebuffed or ignored the requests of Ms. Kurnaz and her counsel. See id. The United States has provided no information either to Ms. Kurnaz or to her German counsel regarding the date and circumstances of Murat Kurnaz's arrest or the specific reasons for his continued detention at Guantánamo. See Exhibit A, Affidavit of Bernhard Docke. The allegations of this petition are based upon the earnest efforts of Petitioners and their counsel to glean the relevant information.
 9. Respondent George W. Bush is the President of the United States and Commander in Chief of the United States Military. It is pursuant to a Military Order promulgated by him or alternatively, under his authority as Commander in Chief and under the laws and usages of war that Mr. Kurnaz is being detained. See ¶25 infra. Accordingly, Respondent Bush is ultimately responsible for the detained Petitioner's unlawful detention.
 10. Respondent Rumsfeld is the Secretary of the United States Department of Defense. Pursuant to the President's Order, Respondent Rumsfeld has been charged with maintaining the custody and control of the detained Petitioner.
 11. Respondent Hood is the Commander of Joint Task Force-GTMO, the task force running the detention operation at Guantánamo. He has supervisory responsibility for the detained Petitioner.
 12. Respondent Cannon is the Commander of Camp Delta, the U.S. facility where the detained Petitioner is presently held. He is the immediate custodian responsible for the detained Petitioner's detention.

III STATEMENT OF FACTS

13. The detained Petitioner is not, nor has he ever been, an enemy alien, lawful or unlawful belligerent, or combatant of any kind.
14. The detained Petitioner is not, nor has he ever been, an “enemy combatant” who was “part of or supporting forces hostile to the United States or coalition partners in Afghanistan and who [was] engaged in an armed conflict against the United States there.” See Hamdi v. Rumsfeld, 542 U.S. ___, slip op. at 8-9 (June 28, 2004).
15. Petitioner seeks to enforce his right to a judicial determination of whether there is a factual or legal basis for Respondents’ apparent determination that he is an “enemy combatant.”
16. On October 3, 2001, the detained Petitioner departed Bremen, Germany, where he has lived for his entire life, to spend a few weeks in Karachi, Pakistan in order to learn more about his Muslim faith. He did not intend to stay long in Pakistan. His plan was to spend several weeks there and then return home to Bremen. See Exhibit B, Affidavit of Rabiye Kurnaz.
17. In early 2002, the detained Petitioner’s family learned that he was in the custody of the United States military at Guantánamo. His family believes that he has been held in United States custody at Guantánamo since January 2002. See Exhibit B, Affidavit of Rabiye Kurnaz.
18. Rabiye Kurnaz has received several letters from her son, delivered through the International Red Cross (ICRC), expressing concern over his detention. See Exhibit B, Affidavit of Rabiye Kurnaz.
19. At the time of his detention, the detained Petitioner was not a member of either the Taliban government’s armed forces or the Al Qaeda armed forces. He did not cause or attempt to cause any harm to American personnel or property prior to his capture. He was not in Afghanistan at the time of his detention, but was taken into custody in Pakistan, turned over to the custody of the U.S. Military there, and then transported to Guantánamo. See Exhibit B, Affidavit of Rabiye Kurnaz.

The Joint Resolution

20. In the wake of the September 11, 2001 attacks on the United States, the United States, at the direction of Respondent Bush, began a massive military campaign against the Taliban government, then in power in Afghanistan. On September 18, 2001, a Joint Resolution of Congress authorized the President to use force against the "nations, organizations, or persons" that "planned, authorized, committed, or aided the terrorist attacks on September 11, 2001, or [that] harbored such organizations or persons." Joint Resolution 23, Authorization for Use of Military Force, Public Law 107-40, 115 Stat. 224 (Jan. 18, 2001).

21. The detained Petitioner is not, and has never been, a member of Al Qaeda or any other terrorist group. Prior to his detention, he did not commit any violent act against any American person or espouse any violent act against any American person or property. Nor was he involved in the ensuing armed conflict. He had no involvement, direct or indirect, in either the terrorist attacks on the United States on September 11, 2001, or any act of international terrorism attributed by the United States to Al Qaeda or any other terrorist group. As he did not participate in the armed conflict at any point in time, he is not properly subject to the Executives authority as Commander in Chief or under the laws and usages of war.
22. The detained Petitioner has had no military or terrorist training. He at no time voluntarily joined any terrorist force.
23. The detained Petitioner was not initially taken into custody by American forces. He was taken into custody against his will and handed over to the Americans. He did not engage in combat against American forces.
24. The detained Petitioner promptly identified himself by his correct name and nationality to the United States. He requested that the United States provide him with access to his family and to legal counsel. The detained Petitioner was kept blindfolded against his will for lengthy periods while being taken involuntarily to Guantánamo. In the course of being taken to Guantánamo, the detained Petitioner believes he was transported via other American territory.

The Detention Order

25. On November 13, 2001, Respondent Bush issued a Military Order authorizing indefinite detention without due process of law. The Order authorizes Respondent Rumsfeld to detain anyone Respondent Bush has "reason to believe":

- i. is or was a member of the organization known as al Qaida;
- ii. has engaged in, aided or abetted, or conspired to commit, acts of international terrorism, or acts in preparation therefor, that have caused, threaten to cause, or have as their aim to cause, injury to or adverse effects on the United States, its citizens, national security, foreign policy, or economy; or
- iii. has knowingly harbored one or more individuals described in subparagraphs (i) and (ii).

See Military Order of November 13, 2001. President Bush must make this determination in writing. The Order was neither authorized nor directed by Congress, and is beyond the scope of the Joint Resolution of September 18, 2001.

26. The Military Order vests the President with complete discretion to identify the individuals that fall within its scope. It establishes no standards governing the use of his discretion. Once a person has been detained, the Order contains no provision for the person to be notified of the charges he may face. On the contrary, the Order authorizes detainees to be held without charges. It contains no provision for detainees to be notified of their rights under domestic and international law, and provides neither the right to counsel, nor the right to consular access. It provides no right to appear before a neutral tribunal to review the legality of a detainee's continued detention and no provision for appeal to an Article III court. In fact, the Order expressly bars review by any court. The Order authorizes indefinite and unreviewable detention, based on nothing more than the President's written determination that an individual is subject to its terms.
27. The Military Order was promulgated in the United States and in this judicial district, the decision to detain Petitioner was made by Respondents in the United States and in this judicial district, the decision to detain Petitioners at Guantánamo was made in the United States and in this judicial district, and the decision to continue detaining the Petitioners was, and is, being made by Respondents in the United States and in this judicial district.
28. Respondent Bush has never certified or determined in any manner, in writing or otherwise, that the detained Petitioner is subject to the Military Order.

29. The detained Petitioner is not properly subject to the Military Order.
30. In the related case of Rasul v. Bush, 215 F. Supp. 2d 55 (D.D.C. 2002), Respondents contended that the petitioners in that case are being detained not pursuant to the President's Military Order but rather under the President's authority as Commander in Chief and under the laws and usages of war. However, the detained Petitioner in this matter was not arrested or detained by the United States in the course of the armed conflict.
31. The detained Petitioner was detained by Pakistani not United States authorities and was arrested by them not in Afghanistan, but in Pakistan, nowhere near the battlefield. Accordingly, Petitioner is not properly detained under the President's authority as Commander in Chief or under the laws and usages of war.

Guantánamo Bay Naval Station

32. On or about January 11, 2002, the United States military began transporting prisoners captured in Afghanistan to Camp X-Ray, at the United States Naval Base, in Guantánamo Bay, Cuba. In April 2002, all prisoners were transferred to a more permanent prison facility in Guantánamo, Camp Delta. Offenses committed by both civilians and foreign nationals living on Guantánamo are brought before federal courts on the mainland, where respondents enjoy the full panoply of Constitutional rights. Detainees incarcerated at Guantánamo are entitled to test the legality of their detention in the federal courts. Rasul v. Bush, 542 U.S. ___, (June 28, 2004).
33. In or about the January 2002, the precise date unknown to counsel but known to Respondents, the United States military transferred the detained Petitioner to Guantánamo, where he has been held ever since, in the custody of Respondents Bush, Rumsfeld, Hood, and Cannon.

The Conditions of Detention at Guantánamo

34. Since gaining control of the detained Petitioner, the United States military has held him virtually incommunicado. He has been or will be interrogated repeatedly by agents of the United States Departments of Defense and Justice, though he has not been charged with an offense, nor has he been notified of any pending or contemplated charges. He has made no appearance before either a military or civilian tribunal of any sort, nor has he been provided counsel or the means to contact counsel. He has not been informed of his rights under the United States Constitution, the regulations of the United States Military, the Geneva Convention, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, the American Declaration on the Rights and Duties of Man, or customary international law. Indeed, Respondents have taken the position that Petitioner should not be told of these rights. As a result, Mr. Kurnaz is completely unable either to protect or to vindicate his rights under domestic and international law.

35. The detained Petitioner has been forced to provide involuntary statements to Respondents' agents at Guantánamo. He has been held under conditions that violate his international and constitutional rights to dignity and freedom from cruel, unusual and degrading treatment or punishment. He has been housed throughout his detention in accommodation that fails to satisfy both domestic and internationally accepted standards of accommodation for any person subject to detention. He was initially forced to use a bucket for a toilet, and was not provided with basic hygienic facilities. He has been refused meaningful access to their families. He has not been provided with the opportunity fully to exercise his religious beliefs. He has been exposed to the indignity and humiliation of the cameras of the national and international press, brought to Guantánamo with the express consent and control of Respondents.
36. In published statements, Respondents Bush, Rumsfeld, and officers Lehnert and Carrico who preceded Hood and Cannon in their respective positions, indicated the United States may hold the detained Petitioner under these conditions indefinitely. See, e.g., Roland Watson, THE TIMES (LONDON), Jan. 18, 2002 ("Donald Rumsfeld, the U.S. Defence Secretary, suggested last night that al-Qaeda prisoners could be held indefinitely at the base. He said that the detention of some would be open-ended as the United States tried to build a case against them."); Lynne Sladky, ASSOC. PRESS, Jan. 22, 2002 ("Marine Brig. Gen. Mike Lehnert, who is in charge of the detention mission, defended the temporary cells where detainees are being held... 'We have to look at Camp X-ray as a work in progress....,' Lehnert told CNN. ... Lehnert said plans are to build a more permanent prison 'exactly in accordance with federal prison standards'"); John

Mintz, The WASH. Post, Extended Detention In Cuba Mullied, Feb. 13, 2002 (“As the Bush administration nears completion of new rules for conducting military trials of foreign detainees, U.S. officials say they envision the naval base at Guantánamo Bay, Cuba, as a site for the tribunals and as a terrorist penal colony for many years to come.”).¹

37. According to the Department of Defense, detainees who are adjudged innocent of all charges by a military commission may nevertheless be kept in detention at Guantánamo indefinitely. See Department of Defense Press Background Briefing of July 3, 2003, available at <http://www.defenselink.mil/transcripts/2003/tr20030703-0323.html> (last visited on July 1, 2004).

IV CAUSES OF ACTION

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF (DUE PROCESS – FIFTH AMENDMENT TO THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION)

38. Petitioners incorporate paragraphs 1 - 37 by reference.
39. By the actions described above, Respondents, acting under color of law, have violated and continue to violate the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Respondent Bush has ordered the prolonged, indefinite, and arbitrary detention of individuals, without Due Process of Law. Respondents Rumsfeld, Hood, and Cannon are likewise acting in violation of the Fifth Amendment, since they act at the President’s direction. On its face, the Military Order violates the Fifth Amendment. There is no basis whatsoever in law for Mr. Kurnaz’s detention.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF (DUE PROCESS – FIFTH AMENDMENT TO THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION)

40. Petitioners incorporate paragraphs 1 - 39 by reference.

¹ See also TIME MAG., Welcome to Camp X-Ray, Feb. 3, 2002:

More curious still is the matter of the prisoners’ ultimate fate. Rumsfeld has laid out four options: a military trial, a trial in U.S. criminal courts, return to their home countries for prosecution, or continued detention ‘while additional intelligence is gathered.’ The last seems a distinct possibility; the Pentagon plans to build 2,000 cells at Camp X-Ray.

41. By the actions described above, Respondents, acting under color of law, have violated and continue to violate the right of the detained Petitioner to be free from arbitrary, prolonged, and indefinite detention, in violation of the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The Military Order, as applied to the detained Petitioner, violates the Fifth Amendment.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(DUE PROCESS – INTERNATIONAL LAW)

42. Petitioners incorporate paragraphs 1 - 41 by reference.

43. By the actions described above, Respondents, acting under color of law, have violated and continue to violate customary international law, Arts. 9 and 14 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, and Arts. XXVIII, XXV, and XXVI of the American Declaration on the Rights and Duties of Man. Respondent Bush has ordered the prolonged, indefinite, and arbitrary detention of the detained Petitioner, without legal process, in violation of binding obligations of the United States under international law. Respondents Rumsfeld, Hood, and Cannon are likewise acting in violation of international law, since they act at the President's direction. On its face, the Military Order violates international law.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(DUE PROCESS – INTERNATIONAL LAW)

44. Petitioners incorporate paragraphs 1 - 43 by reference.

45. By the actions described above, Respondents, acting under color of law, have violated and continue to violate the right of the detained Petitioner to be free from arbitrary, prolonged, and indefinite detention, in violation of customary international law, Arts. 9 and 14 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, and Arts. XXVIII, XXV, and XXVI of the American Declaration on the Rights and Duties of Man. The Military Order, as applied to the detained Petitioner, violates these and other binding obligations of the United States under International Law.

FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(ALIEN TORT CLAIMS ACT – TORTURE)

46. Petitioners incorporate paragraphs 1 - 44 by reference.

47. The acts described herein were inflicted deliberately and intentionally for purposes which included, among others, punishing the victim or intimidating the detained Petitioner.
48. The acts described herein constitute torture in violation of the law of nations under the Alien Tort Claims Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1350, in that the acts violated customary international law prohibiting torture as reflected, expressed, and defined in multilateral treaties and other international instruments, international and domestic judicial decisions, and other authorities.
49. Respondents are liable for said conduct in that they directed, ordered, confirmed, ratified, and/or conspired together and with others to commit the acts of torture against the detained Petitioner.
50. Petitioner was forced to suffer severe physical and psychological abuse and agony and is entitled to monetary damages and other relief to be determined at trial.

SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(ALIEN TORT CLAIMS ACT – CRUEL, INHUMAN OR DEGRADING TREATMENT)

51. Petitioners incorporate paragraphs 1 - 50 by reference.
52. The acts described herein had the intent and the effect of grossly humiliating and debasing the detained Petitioner, forcing him to act against his will and conscience, inciting fear and anguish, and breaking his physical or moral resistance.
53. The acts described herein constitute cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment in violation of the law of nations under the Alien Tort Claims Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1350, in that the acts violated customary international law prohibiting cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment as reflected, expressed, and defined in multilateral treaties and other international instruments, international and domestic judicial decisions, and other authorities.
54. Respondents are liable for said conduct in that they directed, ordered, confirmed, ratified, and/or conspired together and with others to cause the cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment of the detained Petitioner.
55. Petitioner was forced to suffer severe physical and psychological abuse and agony and is entitled to monetary damages and other relief to be determined at trial.

SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(ALIEN TORT CLAIMS ACT – ARBITRARY ARREST AND DETENTION)

56. Petitioners incorporate paragraphs 1 - 55 by reference.
57. The acts described herein constitute arbitrary arrest and detention of Petitioner in violation of the law of nations under the Alien Tort Claims Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1350, in that the acts violated customary international law prohibiting arbitrary detention as reflected, expressed, and defined in multilateral treaties and other international instruments, international and domestic judicial decisions, and other authorities.
58. Respondents are liable for said conduct in that they directed, ordered, confirmed, ratified, and/or conspired together and with others to bring about the arbitrary arrest detention of the detained Petitioner.
59. As result of Respondents' unlawful conduct, the detained Petitioner was deprived of his freedom, separated from his family and forced to suffer severe physical and mental abuse, and is entitled to monetary damages and other relief to be determined at trial.

EIGHTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(DUE PROCESS – FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH U.S. MILITARY REGULATIONS AND INTERNATIONAL HUMANITARIAN LAW)

60. Petitioners incorporate paragraphs 1 - 59 by reference.
61. By the actions described above, Respondents, acting under color of law, have violated and continue to violate the rights accorded to persons seized by the United States Military in times of armed conflict, as established by, inter alia, the regulations of the United States Military, Articles 4 and 5 of Geneva Convention III, Geneva Convention IV, and customary international law.

NINTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(WAR POWERS CLAUSE)

62. Petitioner incorporates paragraphs 1 - 65 by reference.
63. By the actions described above, Respondents, acting under color of law, have exceeded the constitutional authority of the Executive and have violated and continue to violate the War

Powers Clause by ordering the prolonged and indefinite detention of the detained Petitioners without Congressional authorization.

TENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(SUSPENSION OF THE WRIT)

64. Petitioners incorporate paragraphs 1 - 63 by reference.
65. To the extent the Military Order, disallows any challenge to the legality of the detained Petitioner's detention by way of habeas corpus, the Order and its enforcement constitute an unlawful Suspension of the Writ, in violation of Article I of the United States Constitution. The actions of Respondents in claiming the legal right to detain Mr. Kurnaz without judicial authorization or review constitute a suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in violation of Article I of the United States Constitution.

ELEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(ARBITRARY AND UNLAWFUL DETENTION – VIOLATION OF THE APA)

66. Petitioners incorporate paragraphs 1 - 65 by reference.
67. By detaining Petitioners for the duration and in the manner described herein, Respondents have arbitrarily, unlawfully, and unconstitutionally detained the Petitioner, in violation of the Administrative Procedures Act, 5 U.S.C. §706(2).

V
PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, petitioners pray for relief as follows:

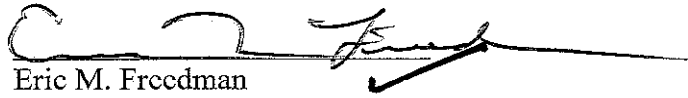

1. Grant Petitioner Rabiye Kurnaz Next Friend status, as Next Friend of Murat Kurnaz;
2. Order the detained Petitioner released forthwith from Respondents' unlawful custody;
3. Order Respondents to allow counsel to meet and confer with the detained Petitioner, in private and unmonitored attorney-client conversations;
4. Order Respondents to cease all interrogations of the detained Petitioner, direct or indirect, while this litigation is pending;
5. Order and declare the Military Order of November 13, 2001, unlawful as a violation of the

- Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution;
6. Order and declare the Military Order of November 13, 2001, unlawful as a violation of the Administrative Procedures Act, 5 U.S.C. § 702;
 7. Order and declare the Military Order of November 13, 2001, unlawful as a violation of customary international law, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, and the American Declaration on the Rights and Duties of Man;
 8. Order and declare that the Military Order of November 13, 2001, violates the War Powers Clause;
 9. Order and declare that the actions of Respondents in seeking to place their detention of Mr. Kurnaz beyond judicial supervision constitute an unlawful Suspension of the Writ of Habeas Corpus, in violation of Article I of the United States Constitution;
 10. Order and declare that the prolonged, indefinite, and restrictive detention of the detained Petitioner is arbitrary and unlawful, a deprivation of liberty without due process in violation of the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution, and in violation of the law of nations and treaties of the United States;
 11. Order and declare that the detained Petitioner is being held in violation of the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution;
 12. Order and declare that the detained Petitioner is being held in violation of customary international law, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, and the American Declaration on the Rights and Duties of Man;
 13. Order and declare that the detained Petitioner is being held in violation of the regulations of the United States Military, the Geneva Conventions, and international humanitarian law;
 14. To the extent Respondents contest any material factual allegations in this Petition, require Respondents to show the facts upon which petitioner's detention is based, grant petitioners an opportunity for meaningful discovery into the case against them, and schedule an evidentiary hearing at which Petitioners may adduce proof in support of their allegations; and
 15. Grant such other legal or equitable relief as may be appropriate to protect Petitioner's rights under the United States Constitution, federal statutory law, and international law.
